

Breeding by Frozen Semen
Conditions of use – 2010 season.

Service fee

$750 per nominated mare payable in advance of shipping. No Payment, no shipment. Nominated mares only, no transfers unless by written consent. All details of nominated mares to be submitted on booking form provided by Chalani. By payment of the fees, you agree to accept these conditions.

Container Hire

You will need to arrange this with your vet and freight it to us, at your cost, to arrive no later than 7 days prior to anticipated insemination date.

Freight

You will require a reliable freight service from our storage point, to your front door or vet, otherwise you may need to collect the shipment yourself from the airport. We take no responsibility for the shipment once it leaves our storage point. Check your insurance situation with the freight company.

Handling Fee

No handling fee will be charged for the first shipment of frozen semen. Subsequent shipments will be charged a handling fee of $50. This fee is payable prior to shipment.

Vet fees

You will need to pay for your own vet services, so we recommend you choose wisely. Choose a vet experienced in the insemination process and in whom you can trust. This person must be someone with whom you can communicate well, and will reliably be available to visit your mare (or you may elect to agist your mare at your vet's clinic) and make contact with us. The average mare usually needs three-four visits, for the preliminary examination, follicle testing and insemination. Some mares will require treatments. Your mare should be cycling normally. For this reason we suggest waiting until October for the first insemination, but planning should begin well beforehand. For best results we recommend a reliable proven breeding mare in good condition, aged 5-14 years.
